Applications for the 2012 UC Berkeley school year will be available soon, so here are some key points to share with your students to position themselves as potential Cal prospects:

- Students must complete 15 core classes to be eligible for admission. At least seven of them must be taken in their last two years of high school, and eleven need to be taken prior to senior year. They include 4 years of English, 3 years of Mathematics, 2 years of Foreign Language, History, and Laboratory Science, and 1 year of College-Prep Electives and Visual/Performing Arts.
- UC Berkeley accepts test scores from both the ACT and SAT. All testing must be completed by December of the year prior to the desired semester of admission (for example, when applying for fall 2012, tests must be completed by December 2011).
- A diversity of experiences and perspectives is highly valued at UC Berkeley. Likewise, more out-of-state students are being enrolled than ever. According to a 2010 report from the university, there was a 20% combined increase of out-of-state and international students, with projections of even larger out-of-state student admissions for the upcoming school year.
